Five creators. One messy day.

THE MESSY U/X CONFERENCE 2026

1 REEL · 1 STORY · LINK IN BIO · DM AUTOMATION

WHAT EVERY CREATOR DELIVERS

Four pieces, one path to a pass.

01

1 Reel

A concept made for the conference, in the creator's own style, ending on "comment MESSY".

02

1 Story

A link sticker straight to the pass page, posted the same day as the reel.

03

Link in bio

The pass link sits in the creator's bio while the campaign runs.

04

DM automation

Anyone who comments MESSY gets the pass link in their DMs, automatically.

@motionbyakash · 255K followers

8.6% audience in Bengaluru

805K views, 30 days

247K accounts reached

On request per package

THE CONCEPT

Motion that untangles the mess.

Reel: a knot of broken buttons, arrows and sticky notes animates itself into a clean screen. The last frame is the conference title in kinetic type: 28 November, Whitefield. Ends on "comment MESSY".

Story: a five-second motion teaser with the pass link sticker.

54% of his followers are 25–34, the core of a UX audience.

| 6.5% | 178.8M | 36.2M | ₹1,00,000 |
|---|---|---|---|
| audience in Bengaluru | views, 30 days | accounts reached | per package |

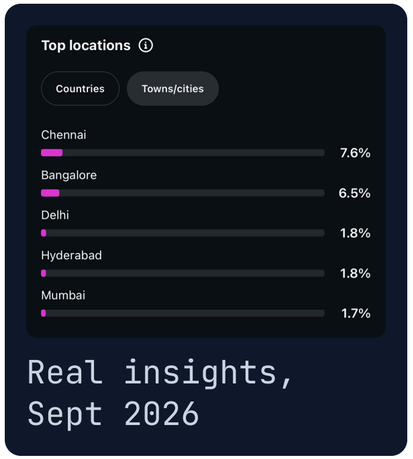

THE CONCEPT

Vibe-coded in 10 minutes. The UX took 10 days.

Reel: he vibe-codes an app at full speed, then real users hit every messy edge. The fix isn't another prompt: it's 13 practitioners on stage in Bengaluru on 28 November. Ends on "comment MESSY".

Story: a poll, "Ship fast or ship right?", with the pass link sticker.

Chennai and Bengaluru are his top two cities (7.6% and 6.5%).

THE CONCEPT

Why a coder is going to a UX conference.

Reel: a Bengaluru POV. The AI tools write the code, but the product still feels wrong. So on 28 November it's off to Whitefield to hear how designers fix it. Ends on "comment MESSY".

Story: a countdown sticker to the day with the pass link.

Based in Bengaluru, so this creator can also attend on the day as a guest.

WHY THIS CREATOR

English-led AI and coding content from a Bengaluru creator: the developers who sit next to designers every day.
